LOCAL LAWS.

AN ACT To incorporate the Bellefonte and Pine Grove Turnpike Company.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. That Samuel Waite, John Withers, R. H. Lee, David Mitchell, M. C. Nelson, John A. Wright, William Simms, W. H. Wommer, L. C. Heskitt, Robert Hiney, Samuel Stofley, George M. Kepler, John B. Mitchell, William Burchfield, or any four of them, be and are hereby appointed commissioners to open books, receive subscriptions and organize a company, by the name, style and title of the Bellefonte and Pine Grove Turnpike Company, with power to construct a turnpike from Bellefonte, in the county of Mifflin, to Pine Grove, in the county of Centre, subject to all the provisions and restrictions of an act regulating turnpike and plank road companies, approved the twenty-sixth day of January, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, except so far as they are hereby altered and supplied.

SECTION 2. That the capital stock of the said company shall consist of five hundred shares, of twenty-five dollars each share: Provided, That said company may from time to time, by a vote of the stockholders, at a meeting called for that purpose, increase their capital stock so much as in their opinion may be necessary to complete said road and carry out the true intent and meaning of this act: Provided, That letters patent shall be issued to the company when ten or more persons shall have subscribed ten per centum of the capital stock hereby authorized.

SECTION 3. That it shall be lawful for the said company to make use of any county bridge on the line of the route of their road, and also use the whole or any part of any public road, and locate their road upon the ground occupied by any public road; and the court of quarter sessions of the county through which the road of the said company passes shall appoint viewers to view and vacate such parts of any public road as shall be used or rendered unnecessary by the construction of the said company's road, as is provided by the general laws of this commonwealth, in the cases of roads which have become useless.

SECTION 4. That the president and managers shall have power to regulate and establish rates of toll, not exceeding quadruple the rates established by the act hereinafter mentioned, and the several supplements thereto, and to erect toll-gates and collect tolls whenever any one mile thereof shall have been completed: Provided, That it shall not be required of the company to make more than sixteen feet in width to be made on artificial road: And provided further, That their road shall at no places rise or fall more than 200 feet in an angle of six degrees from a horizontal line.

SECTION 5. That the said company shall have power to borrow money, at a rate of interest not exceeding eight per centum per annum, for the purpose of completing their road, and locate bonds therefor, and secure the same by mortgage of their road and franchises.

AN ACT For the better protection and maintenance of the poor in Erie county, and to equalize the burden of taxation for said purpose.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act it shall be lawful for the court to appoint one of the acting justices of the peace in each of the boroughs, wards and townships, within the county of Erie, to determine for their respective townships, wards and boroughs, who are proper subjects of charity, and who shall receive relief under the poor laws of the commonwealth, within their several districts, and shall determine the assistance that shall be rendered as shall best protect the unfortunate and the interest of the tax-payers of the several townships, wards and boroughs within the said county, and in what way they shall be cared for, either by giving relief at home or sending them to the county poor house.

SECTION 2. That the commissioners of Erie county shall keep an account with the several townships, wards and boroughs within the same, and once in each year, at the regular settlement, exhibit to the auditors of said county their accounts, and settle all matters relating to the keeping of the poor of said county; and that each township, ward or borough shall be charged with and pay the expenses of keeping their respective poor, and shall, in addition, be charged with and pay their just portion towards the salary of the superintendent and necessary building, repairing and other expenses of the common poor house within said county, in proportion to the number of poor said townships, wards and boroughs may have in said poor house for that year.

SECTION 3. That the money collected from the several districts as aforesaid for the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and not required for the purposes aforesaid shall remain a fund in the hands of the treasurer of said county, and be credited and stand for the use of the township, ward or borough from which it was collected, subject to the order of the justices of the proper district, whose order shall be a good voucher to said treasurer in the settlement of his accounts with commissioners of the county, in the proper settlement to be made as aforesaid.

SECTION 4. That the commissioners of the county shall pay to the several justices of the peace, for their services as aforementioned, a reasonable compensation, when properly presented under oath or affirmation that it is just and correct, not exceeding one dollar and fifty cents for each day by them devoted to poor district districts, and the same shall be charged to the districts in which said services were rendered.

AN ACT To raise the defects in fixing the number of jurors, and in filling the jury wheel in Centre county.

WHEREAS, The court of common pleas of Centre county, at its last session in one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, did not fix the number of jurors to be placed in the wheel for one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine; and

And Whereas, The president judge and jury commissioners of said county met and fixed the number, and selected the names and placed them in the wheel in the month of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and it is desired to validate said action therefore

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the proceedings of the president judge and jury commissioners of centre county, in fixing the number of persons to be placed in the jury wheel for one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine in selecting said names and in placing them in said jury wheel, and all defects in regard thereto, or in drawing jurors for the same, are hereby validated and made legal with like effect as if the same had been done in strict compliance with existing laws,

JOHN CLARK,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
WILMER WORTHINGTON,
Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—The ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.

FAREWELL.

BY BECKIE HARRIS.

Farewell ye mountain friends, farewell,
Once more I leave you for the western land
And when I've reached that far-off shore,
I'll wave for you a fairy's wand;
And when a thousand miles, between us lay,
Part of that thousand, prarie land,
I'll think of you often, every day,
And in return your thoughts demand.

And when I'm moving among new friends,
In a sphere that's entirely new,
And skipping o'er the wide prarie lands,
And treading o'er the prarie dew,
I'll tread on the grass, and sadly I'll think
That thus we poor mortals must perish;
And then I'll think of the trials I've tought,
And my heart for old friends cherish.

Yes, I'll cherish you in memory dear,
Who have proven friends to me;
And when temptation is hovering near,
Your myrtle forms I then will see.
And I'll think of the gay old times we've had
In that eastern land, far away,
Oh, how often my heart has been so sad,
When I made it appear more gay.

Farewell! this little word is hard to say,
When it is said for years to come;
We may not meet until the judgment day,
When we meet in our final home.
Although our paths may flow apace through life,
Where joys and trials are given,
Our God will lead us through this mortal strife,
Farewell, farewell, we'll meet in Heaven.

Resumption of Specie Payments.

The question of resumption of specie payments within the present year is beginning to attract considerable attention, and is eliciting a pretty general expression of opinion from the leading papers of both political parties. The Daily Mirror Journal thinks there would be no danger in resuming if Congress would first add the following supplement to the Tariff bill:

Be it enacted, that whenever the imports shall exceed the exports of the country, independent of coin, for any fiscal quarter or any fiscal year, five per cent., the Secretary of the Treasury, by giving ten day's notice, at the different ports of entry, shall increase the duties on the whole scale of manufactured articles ten per cent. until the exports exceed the imports five per cent. (excluding bullion not coined,) exceed the imports ten per cent. in any fiscal quarter of any fiscal year, independent of coin, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to reduce the duties five per cent. on the whole scale, until an equilibrium is established, of which reduction ten days' notice will also be given.

"The only fear of resumption (it says) is a drain of coin, and the subsequent inability of the banks to discount, which would prove disastrous to business, and would, of course, curtail the circulating medium, and knock down the prices of everything; but with the above supplement passed by Congress, resumption could take place within six months afterwards, without curtailing the circulating medium, destroying values, or checking business.

"The agitation of a resumption has almost the same depressing effect on business as the fixing of a day for resumption and therefore the sooner this question is disposed of, either one way or the other, the better, so far as the business interests of the country are concerned.

"To make the attempt in the present state of our foreign trade, with such large balances against us, would result in the destruction of hundreds of millions of dollars in values, and the debtor classes would have a large portion of their substance swept away."

These are the views of a paper located in the heart of the mining region, whose able Editor has, for many years, devoted his attention to trade and finance. The amendment of the tariff, recommended as a measure preliminary to resumption is a suggestion which we have seen nowhere else, and is worthy of consideration.

The question of resumption is a delicate one, and of such vast importance as to demand of Congress the most careful and searching scrutiny. In their hands we leave it, as with them will rightfully rest the responsibility of venturing upon the experiment of refusing to do so.—Telegraph

LISTENING.—To listen well is a rare accomplishment. Indeed, it is a thing beyond an accomplishment. It takes a great man to make a great listener. The ordinary hindrances to good listening are very considerable, such as the desire to talk one's self, the proneness to interrupt, the inaccuracy—if one may use such an an expression—of most men in listening.

But there is something which prevents good listening in a much more subtle way, and to a much more dangerous extent, than any of the above named hindrances. It is this: As soon as you begin to give utterance to some sentiment or opinion, narrate some story, declare some fact, you will find that your hearer, in nine cases out of ten, strikes at once a mental attitude in reference to what you say. He receives it as a friend, or a foe, or a critic, or as an advocate, or a judge. Now, all the characters may afterwards be fairly taken up, but the first thing is to listen, if it may so be expressed, out of character—to be a tabula rasa, a listener, and nothing more. This requires some of the simplicity of greatness. It indicates the existence, too, of that respect which really great men have for other men, and for truth.

The Specie Question.

The Chicago Post says all the newspaper talk about a quick resumption of specie payments is "mere gabble, and nothing more." We do not think so. It is right and proper for the press and people to talk, and think, and interchange views on this question.—There is generally wisdom in a multiplicity of counsellors. We are satisfied that good will grow out of this interchange of sentiment—this agitation of the resumption question; while we are equally well satisfied that the speedy resumption of specie payments would bring ruin and disaster upon the whole country. We are also convinced that the parties who are howling the loudest against the National Banks and in favor of speedy re-sumption, are composed of the same old enemies of the Government who opposed every measure adopted by the Government for the suppression of the slave-holders Rebellion.

These enemies—these copperhead-rebels in disguise—would glory in driving the Republican party, or the Administration at Washington, into a speedy return to specie payments, knowing and believing as they do, that the ruin and disaster which must necessarily follow, would drive the masses from the Republican ranks, and place once more in power, the Democratic party, whose leaders in 1861 were guilty of treason, periury, murder and arson.

To our readers, we say, be not afraid. Cast all your fears away. Lose not your faith in your leaders and Statesmen. In the Republican party we have the best Statesmen the world has ever produced. The history of our party for thepast twelve years abundantly prove this assertion.

Mr. Boutwell, our very able and efficient Secretary of the Treasury, and our Wilson's Sumner's, Sherman's, Morton's, Kelley's, and indeed a vast majority of our Congressmen and Senators, have resolved to carry out our own Republican theory of finances, regardless of the whims, opinions, or complaints of the copperhead element of the country. Congress will meet on next Monday, and we look for bold, but wise legislation—legislation of such a character as will give an impetus to trade, confidence to business men everywhere, and silence, the copperhead enemies of the Republican party and Republican institutions for the next half century. We have said more than we intended, and now give the views of the Post, expressed in its own brief and bold style, as follows:

"No law of Congress can put the "country into a condition in which "specie payments, within the next four "or five years, will be practicable. All "enactments looking to that end will "be null and void, because impossible "of execution And the case is so "plain, that it need not be argued.—"Neither the Government or the na"tional banks have got the money with "which to redeem their paper now in "circulation; and there is no possibil"ity that they will be able to get it, "until, by the growth of the country "and the operation of known commer"cial laws, and the credit of the Gov"ernment, upon which that of the "banks depends, is improved. No "man is insane enough to believe that "with the present premium on gold, "or with any other approximating it, "resumption will be attempted. The "cry that we are now to return to a "specie basis, or at least, to fix a near "day when we will do so, comes from "the bears in the markets of the coun"try; and none reiterate it so loudly "as those who are anxious to increase "their substance by the utter ruin of "business and business men. The "Congress about to assemble in Wash"ington is not made up wholly of "scoundrels and fools."

POLITICS IN VIRGINIA.—The political situation in Virginia, is far from satisfactory. Gov. Walker continues to act in sympathy with the general policy he announced during his canvass; the old rebel spirit is gradually, in the estimation of Gen Canby, getting control of things in many parts of the State. The Republican Convention split, and about one-half of the delegates have taken ground against admission under the present Constitution. The seceders, however, represent the more sensible of the Republican politicians, and will have the sympathy of the General commanding.

Public men, generally, regret the division among the Republicans in Virginia, but find some satisfaction in the fact that efforts are being made to put the party on a more liberal basis.

JEFF DAVIS has accepted the office of President of a Life Insurance Company at $15,000. Very few honest men would want to be insured in that company.

"Rings and Corners."

It is very seldom, indeed, we find anything published in a Democratic paper which we can endorse; but the following article on "Rings and Corners," which we find in the Hollidaysburg Standard, a Democratic paper possessing much more ability and decency than the Watchman, is so good and true, that we transfer it to our columns. We are quite sure, if Mr. Traugh had lived in this county while writing his article, he would have added the "Court House Ring," and handled it without gloves. The Standard says:

"We hear a great deal about "rings" and "corners," and their operations in this and that line of business.—One week the gold ring absorbs public attention, the next there is a "corner" in grain, to be succeeded by the doings of the whisky ring, and that in turn by an "oil corner," and so on ad infinitum.

They are each and every one pregnant with corrupt influences, and of the most demoralizing and deleterious tendency, paralizing trade, ruining honest business men, and distressing and oppressing the whole community. The sooner the public comes to look upon these rings and combinations in their true light the better. Whenever they are regarded—as they should be—as nothing less than wholesale gambling and plundering, and the parties thereto tabooed in community and honest business circles, as dangerous characters, inimical to the general weal, the better it will be for the honest public.

Compared with the operations of rings, the vocation of the faro dealer is respectable. His motto is caveat emptor, and he makes no pretense that he has not the advantage of the situation. He gives notice in advance that he intends to fleece his patrons, if he can. Not so with "ring" and "corner" combinations. The operators therein make large pretentions to honesty, and lay claims to the most unbounded public confidence. And still the confiding public is always the sufferer.

We are not chimerical enough to think that a law or a series of laws could be passed adequate to the suppression of the evil. Too many men of quasi respectability, and powerful moneyed influence are parties to it to effect anything in that way. It can only be suppressed by the force of public opinion. Let honest business men refuse to recognize those land pirates who make fabulous fortunes in a single day at the expense of the public, and inflict the deepest injury upon mercantile transactions. If this thing is to go on unchecked mercantile transactions of even ordinary magnitude, will come to be looked upon as only ramifications of a wide spread scheme of swindling and plunder.—Men who are really honest will be placed under the ban of su-picion, and suffer as a consequence, for while suspicion generally facilitates the operations of the villain, it falls like the deadly blight of the Upas upon the man who is really honest.

Take for instance the effort of a "corner" in grain. A few men, backed by a vast amount of capital, get control of the bulk of the grain upon the market, for speculative purposes. Quietly and silently they send out their myrmidons and emissaries, and secure it at reduced prices, and before the public has more than a suspicion of it, they have a monopoly of the market. Then they put up the prices, and the plundered public is compelled to fill the coffers of these men, and swell their illegitimate profits to enormous proportions. Or by a similar combination, these same men compel the producer to sell his grain at rates actually below its value, and in turn compel the consumer to pay more than it is worth.

The operations of the various rings and corners and combinations are similar or dissimilar, according to the ends they have in view. But the main object is always the same, and may be defined with the one comprehensive word—plunder.

Tariff or Free Trade.

The enemies of American Industry, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, have determined on a deadly assault on the one law which protects our working men from the ruinous competition of foreign labor, and particularly English labor. Already the importers and foreign manufacturers have raised vast sums to corrupt our National Congress, and to debauch the minds of our people. Already the press of the country has been carefully canvassed. Every Free Trader who conducts a newspaper has received his cue. Every needy Bohemian who will betray his principles for bread, has been bought. The Democratic press of the country, with lamentable unanimity, have taken up the cause of the British, German and French manufacturers and mechanics against our own. And, in some instances, papers which have the confidence of Republicans have joined in a crusade against the dearest interests of American Industry.

How much we regret this determined war to be waged against the best interests of our country we are unable to express. But while the enemy is at the gate the duty before us is to defend our citadel rather than to mourn over the necessity for its defense. The bitterness of the assault of the Free Traders may readily be imagined when the stake for which they play is considered. The determination with which the friends of American Industry will defend their cause may be gathered in the same way. The importers hope to secure for British manufactures the market of a continent. The Protectionists aim to keep this continent as free from the domination of the capital of Great Britain, as it is now from her political domination. And in this struggle we are forced by every consideration of duty, by every instinct of patriotism, and by every sentiment of gratitude, to uphold the best, the vital interests of our own country against those of her constant, able, persistent and natural rival, England.

Into this far-reaching discussion nothing will be left undone which ability, vast resources, and ingenuity can devise on either side. The statement of facts; the manipulation of statistics; the sophistry of cunning; the tricks of merely mercenary combatants; the logic of honest men, and the mendacity of hired liars, will all enter; and to discriminate justly, on either side, from such a mass of truth and falsehood, principal and interest, will require no ordinary attention and research. Especially will a clear understanding of this discussion require that the rubbish shall be, as far as possible, cleared away and the naked issue fully presented and frequently referred to. This is a future duty. The true plan now is to strip the tinsel from the issue between the friends and enemies of American Labor, remunerative wages, general prosperity and National Progress, and to bring the actual combatants face to face.

The aggressor in this war on our prosperity and progress is British cupidity and greed, backed by British gold. The interests assailed are American enterprise and the rights of American Labor. Every attempt to cover up this fact is both unfair and uncandid. With a Tariff on such articles as we can manufacture, our capitalists can earn a fair return for their capital, and they can invest it in productive industry with safety; while they are thus enabled to pay fair wages for a fair day's work. Under Free Trade, the English capitalists crush out our feebler moneyed interest; they control our markets; and they destroy the industries which give to the labor of the country steady employment and good wages. This, the Free Traders bring about, whether they desire to do so or not. To prevent this indescribable calamity is the work before the Protectionists. How well they will do their duty remains to be seen. Our part, small though it be, shall be freely and earnestly done.

Gov. Curtin at St. Petersburg.

Reception by the Emperor.

His Speech and the Response.

Gov. Curtin has at last arrived at St. Petersburg. Our readers will, no doubt, be pleased to hear that he is well, and in the best of spirits. We clip the following from the Pittsburg Commercial of the 29th ult.:

"The Court Journal at St. Petersburg gives the following account of the reception accorded to our distinguished representative, Andrew G. Curtin, by the Emperor, October 27:

"We have already announced that on Wednesday last, Monsieur Curtin, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States of America, was received by the Emperor at the Winter Palace, and had the honor of presenting to his Majesty his credentials.

"On the occasion Monsieur Curtin spoke as follows:

"I have the honor to present to your Imperial Majesty, the letter of the President of the United States, accrediting me as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near the Court of your Majesty. In fulfilling this duty I am charged by the President to express to your Majesty, how gratified he is to see continue the relations of peace and friendship which have so long united the Government of the United States to the Government of your Majesty—and his most earnest hope that these relations may not only be prolonged, but become more firm and cordial, as both countries shall realize the progress which their continental position and their vast material resources so certainly promise them in the near future. In behalf of the Government and people of my country I am happy in the opportunity to offer the renewed expression of their admiration and respect for your majesty, as well as their hope and earnest wishes for the uninterrupted prosperity of a reign illustrated by wisdom, firmness and justice."

"To this his Majesty, the Emperor, responded in the most gracious terms, expressing his desire also for the continuance of friendly relations between the two countries—thanking the representative of the United States for the kind words addressed to him personally, and specially calling attention to the progressive development of the two countries and the resemblance subsisting between them in this respect."

Mr. Curtin is, we understand, the first representative of a foreign power ever received at the Russian Court undecorated with the fantastic uniform known as a court dress. It may be that the law which forbids our embassadors to wear this dress, produces an effect the reverse of what is intended. Of course the design was to give the official an apperance of republican simplicity; the result almost certainly is to render him conspicuous. But those who have seen Gov. Curtin and taken note of the dignity of his bearing and presence, will easily believe that by his obedience to Mr. Marcy's law on this occasion, neither he nor his country suffered any detriment in the estimation of spectators of the scene.

TO DO good with one's means while in the land of the living, instead of leaving them to be quarreled over by ungrateful heirs, and divided among lawyers, is a fashion set by Peter Cooper and George Peabody which we hope is to become general. And, among recent manifestations of this wisdom, we note with pleasure the gift of $50,000 by Orange Judd, of The American Agriculturist, to the Wesleyan University of Middletown, Conn., to provide a suitable building for its Department of Science. Mr. Judd is still a young man, who graduated in poverty from that college, and struck off into the wide world to earn a living and do good. By energy and assiduity, he has already achieved such a measure of success as has enabled him to do this much for the cause of Education, and to form plans of still larger and wider beneficence, should his life be spared for ten or twenty years longer. Doubtless many will be inspired by his example to emulate and even improve upon it. And thus every good deed becomes the center of an ever-widening circle of devotion and beneficence.—*N. Y. Financial and Commercial.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 24, 1869.

Matters on Third street were generally dull to-day, and there is but little change to note. Government bonds were steady, and the foreign quotations a shade better. The movements of the on to specie party seem to have little effect on values, owing to the general belief in their ability to force resumption on the country. It is hardly probable that an Administration as popular as the present one will risk its standing with the people, merely to satisfy the clamorings of a few visionary and interested individuals. We may all be impatient at the long delay in resuming, but our impatience should not lead us into committing a great error. We can approach specie payments merely by promoting those causes which will depress the premium, and a glance at the decline since the market was left to itself, will justify this assertion. We are in a state of suspension partly because the premium has never nearly touched par, and if this is the case, as we believe it to be, resumption would follow as soon as gold was at par. We need no contraction to bring this about nor any force; but we require a steady persistency in the sale of surplus Government gold and such other means used as will either increase the production or bring gold into the country. There is no doubt but that we need a larger basis on which to resume than either the Government or the banks have on hand. A foreign loan or greater production will remedy this, while resumption, with the means at hand, would loosen the sums now hoarded by the people, and together the amounts would be ample for the purpose. We are not in favor, however, of immediate and forced resumption, either on business or political grounds; although, perhaps, so far as its continuance is concerned it might be permanent. But it can be gradually brought about without the great shock which the quick plan would cause.

This is the general verdict of the majority of business men, notwithstanding statements to the contrary. No man really desires to destroy his present trade, that he may possibly secure a better one some years hence, and no matter how erratic his views and desires may be in regard to specie payments, when it comes to the point of even a dull trade, or total business annihilation, he will choose the former. His interest would control him, and he would follow the teachings of experience in preference to treading a path of uncertainty and disaster. The leaders of the on-to-specie-payment movement may gather adherents, but the popular voice is against them, and the whole business community will oppose and defeat them.

The premium showed a further weakness to-day, and the lowest point reached was 125¼ at the close. There is little or no speculation in it, and, as we have indicated above, the premium is falling of its own weight.

FRIDAY, Nov. 26, 1869.

We notice that a private despatch from Washington states, "on the best authority," that neither the President nor the Secretary of the Treasury are in favor of an immediate resumption of specie payment, but, on the contrary, are opposed to even a discussion of the subject. We are not able to determine what the "best authority" is for this statement, but whether or not our informant has received such information matters very little, for we fully believe that Mr. Grant and Secretary Boutwell intend to do the best they can for the country, and as we give them both credit for having a very large share of common sense and an unusual proportion of discretion and honesty, we are satisfied that the interest of the people will be consulted before a determination is made to try a mere experiment. Such assurances as the above are, however, pleasurable in their effects, and can do no harm, while they may serve to stimulate some of the faint-hearted. As we trusted General Grant with the cause of the nation in the field in 1865, so can we trust the President with the cause of the people in 1869. He did not disappoint us in the one case, and we feel assured he will be true to us in the other.

TENNESSEE KU-KLUX.

Attempt to Disarm Negroes near Tipton—Two of the Raiders Killed—Six Negroes Arrested—Five of them taken from the Sheriff and Shot—Great Excitement, and Further Bloodshed Feared.

MEMPHIS, November 24.—A terrible affair occurred near Tiptonville, Tennessee, Sunday. A party of masked men went to the house of Wm. Jones, a planter, for the purpose of disarming negroes working for him. Jones hearing it intimated that they were coming, determined to resist, as the negroes had been peaceable and well disposed, and made the proper means for defense. When the raiders came they were met with a destructive fire, which caused them to retreat, leaving one of their number dead and two mortally wounded. The dead one proved to be Robert Dickinson, living across the Kentucky line. His cousin Robert Beauchamp, died next morning. He said he was misled into the scrape. The excitement next day was intense. The officers came and arrested Mr. Jones and six of the negroes. Owing to the excitement, Mr. Jones was taken to the river in charge of the Deputy Sheriff, placed on the steamer Louisville and brought here, while the Sheriff with the negroes started for Troy, but on the way were attacked by a posse, who took five of the negroes into the woods and shot them down. The Sheriff, by hard begging, succeded in saving the life of the other one, who was taken to Troy and put in jail. The excitement in Tipton is intense, and as the party who were shot are well known, it is supposed other blood will be shed, even if the matter is settled.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 24.—Willis Jones, at whose house the tragic affray reported in the previous dispatch occurred, states that he had an interview with the parties who attacked his house on Monday preceeding, and warned them that he would defend his negroes to the last; also, that Hicks, one of the men wounded, had attempted to whip one of the negroes before. The affair grew out of the enmity of Hicks and others to two negroes. The parties were all Southern men.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—Albert D. Richardson, whose fame as a journalist is world-wide, was shot, on Thursday evening of last week, in the New York Tribune office, by Daniel McFarland. Jealousy—the cause. The ball lodged in Mr. Richardson's stomach. His chances for recovery are said to be favorable.

A Horrible Murder.

Three Persons Butchered---Robbery and Arson.

The Murderers Arrested.

They Confess Their Guilt.

We extract from the Huntingdon Journal & American, of Nov. 24th, the following particulars of the brutal murder committed in that county on the 7th, ult.:

On Thursday morning last our usually quiet and peaceable community was startled by the intelligence that the family of Mr. John Peightal, in Penn township, consisting of himself, wife, and a small boy, were found murdered the evening before, in their house, which had also been robbed and set on fire by the murderers.

Suspicion was immediately fastened upon two men who had been seen lurking around the premises during the day, and who were last seen coming in the direction of this place. Two strangers, answering to the description of the suspected parties, having been seen during the latter part of the night in the oyster saloon of Mr. Jacobs, on Railroad street, and leaving on the Cincinnati Express westward, at 3 o'clock in the morning, were immediately suspected—and as sequel proved, justly—and accordingly the police authorities at Altoona, the next stopping place of the train, were informed by telegraph of the fact, and instructed to arrest them on their arrival, immediately after which a dispatch was received here that the men were and in the custody of the officers, and would be sent to this place for identification by the next train.

THE LOCALITY VISITED

A large number of our citizens, on Thursday morning, availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by the gentlemanly Superintendent of the Broad Top Rail Road, Mr. M'Killips, to visit the which, as we have already observed, is on the Broad Top Railroad, about half a mile from Pleasant Grove Station, and two miles from Marklesburg. An arrangement had been made by the Superintendent of the road by which the trains in going up and returning stopped immediately opposite the scene of the murder, thus affording an opportunity of spending a short time there and returning with little inconvenience.

THE SCENE INSIDE.

The house inside presented a most horrible appearance. The ceiling and walls were blackened almost to the color of charcoal. The kitchen floor, where the murder took place, was charred, blackened, clotted with blood, and burned in holes every here and there. Pieces of clothing and bedding, partially consumed, were lying scattered in every direction, and everything indicated the manner in which the three-fold crime of murder, robbery, and arson had been planned and carried into execution. The indications were that the family had just seated themselves at the supper table when the murderers entered. The table, with the unfinished repast, was still standing when first discovered, in the same position it had no doubt occupied when the work of death commenced.

THE VICTIMS,

In a room adjoining the kitchen part of the house, lay, side by side, the charred and mutilated remains of the three victims. Mr. Peightal was shot by a bullet, which entered his left temple, between the eye and ear. Mrs. Peightal had received a similar wound under the right ear, the ball passing through and coming out on the other side. There was also a severe bruise on the back of the head. The little boy was shot immediately above the left ear, the ball passing out and lodging in one of the window frames. The fiends, it seems, after murdering the family, had piled the bed clothes, straw, and other combustible materials on the corpses and set them on fire. Mr. Peightal was burned slightly on the back of the neck, and one of his hands was almost consumed. Mrs. Peightal was badly burned about the arms, breast and body, and the body and limbs of the little boy were literally roasted.

ARRIVAL OF THE MURDERERS.

The arrested parties, in charge of 2 police officers from Altoona, arrived here on the 11 o'clock train, and were conveyed immediately from the station to the county prison in charge of Sheriff Neely and a possee of citizens. A large and excited crowd had assembled at the depot previous to their arrival; threats of summary justice were freely made, and it was feared that the prisoners would be taken from the hands of the officers and executed on the spot, to so great a pitch of excitement had the populace been aroused by the circumstance.

SEARCH OF THE PRISONERS.

On arriving at the jail, the prisoners were immediately searched, and about $125 in greenbacks discovered, together with $6 in gold. About the same amount was discovered on them when arrested in Altoona. In addition to this, one of them was discovered to have 27½ in gold concealed in his mouth. The boots of the prisoners were found to correspond exactly with the measurement of the track in the snow near the scene of the murder.

THEIR STATEMENT.

The prisoners gave their names as Albert Van Bodenburg and Gotleib Bohner. Both are Germans, and the latter is known as an old offender, having been, some two or three years since, convicted in this court of larceny, under the name of Gotlieb Bonner. Their statements as to their whereabouts, and the manner in which they came in possession of the money, were so confused and contradictory as to leave no doubt of their guilt.

Mr. Peightal, the murdered man, was near 70 years of age, and was an honest, upright citizen. His wife was perhaps some five or six years his junior. The little boy was a son of Philip Garner, deceased, whom they had adopted, having no family of their own, and was, perhaps, about 10 or 12 years of age. By their habits of industry and frugality, they had amassed considerable property. The farm on which they resided is a valuable one, and the possession of so large a sum of money may have been surmised by the murderers, and thus marked them as victims.

The guilty perpetrators will, no doubt, receive the reward of their crimes in due time, and thus render an example of that retributive justice which inevitably follows the commission of such scenes of blood, which will have a salutary effect in deterring others, and preserving the peace and security of the community.

SENATOR MORTON expresses the opinion that Congress will defeat the tariff on sugar, tea, coffee, salt, and all articles the tax upon which falls most heavily upon the poorer classes. He does not favor a general reduction of the tariff, except on the few articles enumerated above, and will oppose all measures which savor of free trade. He will vote for the continuance of the income tax, for the reason that he believes it falls upon those most able to pay.

STRAWS.—Show us a man, who, during the war for the suppression of the slave holder's rebellion, rejoiced over every defeat of the Union armies, and we will show you a man who is constantly howling against the National Banks, and advocating the speedy resumption of specie payments. Republicans, workingmen of Pennsylvania, be not deceived! It is nothing but the old rebel spirit in disguise.

THE Harrisburg Patriot and the Williamsport Standard, both Democratic sheets, advocate the exclusion of the Bible from the common schools —Ex.

These papers realize the fact, that the more the Bible is read in school, or out of school, the smaller the Democratic party becomes. The Bible and the later day Democracy are as opposite as are the antipides.

IT is stated that Secretary Boutwell denies having taken any steps, or even harboring the idea, of a resumption of specie payments at present. He considers it useless to be troubling about specie payment until the time comes when such a thing will be feasible.

THIS INFALLIBLE REMEDY DOES NOT, like the poisonous irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions with which the people have long been humbugged, simply palliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs, as there is danger of doing in the use of such nostrums, but it produces PERFECT AND PERMANENT CURES OF THE WORST CASES OF CHRONIC CATARRH, as thousands can testify. "COLD IN THE HEAD" is cured with a few applications. CATARRHAL HEADACHE is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive Breath, Loss or Impairment of the sense of taste, smell or hearing, Watering or Weak Eyes, and Impaired Memory, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. We offer in good faith a standing reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that we cannot cure.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

THE work on the Episcopal church, of this borough, has been suspended until next Spring.

☞ THE Presbyterian church will be completed, and ready for services, about March 1st, 1870.

MESSRS. IRWIN & WILSON, of this place, have secured the services of Mr. Thompson Barr, as clerk, in their extensive hardware store.

FITS.—Our very clever friend, Wm. S Tripple, merchant tailor, Bush's Arcade, has on hand a fine stock of cloths cassimeres, &c, and is prepared to give all his customers fits.

DIED at the Fulton coal mine, four miles from Philipsburg, of congestion of the brain, after one hour's illness, on the 20th ult., Mr. Andrew Rogan, 19 years of age. His remains were taken to St. Marys to be interred.

"ANY color so it is red," seems to be the cry this reason—young ladies who promenade the street, with long, red feathers in their hats, are very suggestive of red headed woodpeckers. These feathery ornaments are very stylish and becoming, however.

THE Presbyterian church at Philipsburg was re organized on Sunday, the 21st ult. The services began on Thanksgiving evening, and continued until Sunday evening. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered on Sunday. Rev's Gibson and Pridaux conducted the services.

IMPORTANT TRUTHS.—Every body should know when they are in want of nauseas drugs, fresh medicines, fine perfumeries, soaps, sponges, brushes, combs, toilet goods, or unadulterated tonics and liquors, that F. P. Green is able to supply every want of the community in these articles, and guarantees, beyond cavil, the compounding of none but pure and fresh drugs. Call and see him at his splendid store in the Bush House.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.—We have not been presented with a new hat—we were not supplied with one or more turkeys for Thanksgiving day by any of our readers, and, consequently, have no thanks for turkey to return to any one; but we do thank W. L. Gordon for a sack of his superior buckwheat flour, which we found at our home, on the hill upon returning, care-worn and weary, one evening last week. Mr. Gordon has one of the finest mills in the county. His buckwheat flour cannot be beaten.

A NEW DAILY.—Hon. Alexander Cummings, well known to the people of Pennsylvania, has commenced, in Philadelphia, the publication of a daily paper entitled The Day. We have seen but one copy of the paper, from which we learn that The Day is neutral in politics, devoted entirely to news, and the best interests of the country. Mr. Cummings is an able writer, and we have no doubt will make his paper spicy, learned, interesting and useful. Copies for sale at J. D. Miller's Book Store.

CONSOLIDATED.—The Lycoming Gazette and the West Branch Bulletin have consolidated under the name of the Gazette and Bulletin. This is, we think, a move in the right direction. Separately, the papers were good; unitedly, with all the talents and energies of both, concentrated in one, the Gazette and Bulletin should be a first-class paper. We wish the Proprietors success, and hope that they may never cease their efforts until Lycoming county rolls up a Republican majority of from 1500 to 2000.

WINTER NIGHTS.—Winter has commenced. The long winter nights are here, and to our young readers we put the interrogatory, how do you propose to spend the time? It will not do to be idle, because it has been truly said that idleness is the mother of vice. It is so arranged by Providence that no man can attain to true excellence without labor. The young man who disobeys the laws of God, and violates the laws of his being by idling away his time, or visiting low saloons, or other haunts of iniquity, can never expect to succeed in business, or rise to eminence, either in Church or State. Remember, young men, that the Ancients were right when they proclaimed the great truth that Labor omnia vincit—labor conquers all things.

Every father should instruct his sons and daughters to improve every moment of their spare time in reading good and useful books, (not ten cent novels, or the "yellow-kivered" literature of the day) their own local paper—the REPUBLICAN, for instance, and the Presbyterian, the Lutheran Observer or Christian Advocate, which ever may suit their religion or creed.

In addition to these, there should be organized a "Farmers Club," or, in the absence of this, a good debating society in every school district in the county.—Here you could improve your time and talents; here measure intellectual swords with your young neighbor or comrade; here lay the foundation for a long, active and useful life. We hope our young friends will act upon our suggestion, and organize debating societies without delay. When you have organized, we submit the following question for discussion:

Can a man be a christian, and at the same time a member of the Democratic party as at present organized?

Subscribe for the Republican.

BARGAINS.—A. Sternburg is selling off at cost, and promises the people great bargains. All are invited to call and examine his goods and prices.

QUERY.—What has become of Holahan?—Fulton Republican.

We suppose the above interrogatory has reference to our young friend Wm. C. Holahan, Esq. If so, we would answer that he has been at his home, in Milesburg, this county, for several weeks past, busily engaged in useful and important business. Mr. Holahan is an intelligent, enterprising young gentleman, and gives promise of becoming one of the best lawyers and politicians in the country. To the Republican we would say, have patience; you will hear from Mr. Holahan when his defamers are non est.

ENFORCE THE LAW.—The people of Osceola will have to make up their minds to enforce the law, or compell some of their inhabitants to move to Huntingdon county. From all we can learn, some of the miners in the vicinity of Osceola and Philipsburg are becoming very desperate and law-defying. On the 14th ult. a company of ladies and gentlemen returning home from church were attacked by a company of miners near the Enterprise coal banks. The attack was unprovoked. Two of the company, one lady and a gentleman, sustained severe bruises. The weapons used by the miners were stones, which they caused to fly thick and fast. Every man of them should be arrested and severely punished.

WINNING WOMEN.—One of our exchanges gives the following excellent advice to "boys" who are on the "lookout" for a "helpmate:"

Keep your eyes open, boys, when you are after a woman. If the little dear is cross, and scolds her mother in the back room, you may be sure you will get particular fits all around the house. If she apologizes for wiping the dishes, you need a girl to fan her. If she blushes when at the washtub with her sleeves rolled up, be sure, sir, that she is cod fish aristocracy, has little breeding and little sense. If you marry a woman who knows nothing but to commit manslaughter on the piano, you have got the poorest piece of muslin ever gotten up. Find the one whose mind is right, and then pitch in. Don't be hanging round like a sheep-thief, as though ashamed to be seen around in the day time, but walk up like a chicken to dough, and ask for the article like a man.

A TRUTH THAT IS OFTEN FORGOTTEN.—The Lebanon Courier tells us of a clergyman in that place who astonished his congregation recently by telling them that he could not save them—Baptism could not save them—taking communion would not save them—belonging to the church would not save them—God alone could insure salvation. Too many, in religious matters, take the shadow for the substance—the form for the spirit. Their religion is a loose garment, a sort of Sunday dress, which is laid to one side in every-day life, when it might be inconvenient and pecuniarily unprofitable to keep it unsoiled. But the faithful preacher tells his hearers that this is not the religion that finally wins.—That with the true ring does to others as it would be done by at all times, and on all occasions, and it is the kind of which the world is greatly in need of an increase.

A VISIT, AND A SERMON.—We had the extreme pleasure of meeting our old friend, Rev. John Tonner, on the 21st ult., in this place. He had been in Philadelphia, and on his return, paid his son-in-law, H. P. Harris, and our town, a pop-visit. On Sunday evening (21st ult.,) he preached to the assembled multitude in the M. E. Church. His sermon was a good one; but in one particular point he entertained views differing from those entertained by Dr Adam Clark, Rev. John Wesley, Watson, and others of the great fathers and D. D's of the M. E. Church. Rev. Tonner is an excellent talker, and preached us an able and learned, although a somewhat abstruse sermon. He departed for his home in Canton, Ohio, on Monday evening, the 22nd ult. May he come often and may success, and the blessing of heaven attend him wherever he may be.

SMALL FRUITS.—We are in receipt of the "Small Fruit Recorder and Cottage Gardener," a valuable little monthly paper edited by A. M. Purdy, (successor to Purdy & Johnston,) of Palmyra, N. Y. It contains the most practical articles in relation to this subject we ever saw, and should be in the hands of every person who has a garden of even a rod square. The price is only 50 cents a year. Send stamp for specimen copy, and circular containing offer to those getting up clubs. We notice any person getting up a club of six, has one copy gratis.

He also sends us a valuable little work called the "Small Fruit Instructor," which has received the highest testimonials, from the most prominent horticulturists and pomologists in the United States. It tells how to plant and grow all kinds of small fruits. Price only 10 cents. Address, for either of the above, the above party.

IMPROVEMENT.—The Journal, an excellent paper, neutral in politics, published in the town of Philipsburg, this county, speaking of the growth of that place, says:

Our town is surely growing, and it is noticeable that this increase is not a mushroom growth, born in a night to perish in a day, but rapid, vigorous and healthy. Notwithstanding the many edifices built during the year, we have a prospect of more buildings being erected in the coming year. Of the buildings to be erected in the spring, may be mentioned, as certain, an M. E. Church, a Baptist Church, an Odd Fellow's Hall, and an addition or extension of Dr. Potter's block. These are to be brick buildings, and when finished, will be valuable acquisitions to the place.

Bellefonte has been growing very rapidly for the last four years; but if the Watchman continues to advise every person to stay out of the town, it is hard to tell what our future will be. Meek's action in this matter, reminds us very forcibly, of the story of the bird that befouled its own nest.

EAST BRADY "INDEPEVENT."—This is the title of a new seven column paper just started, at East Brady, Clarion county, Pa., by Samuel Young, Esq., formerly of the Clarion Banner. Mr. Young is a powerful and spicy writer, and from his long experience in the newspaper business, we have no doubt, will present to the people of Western Pennsylvania a first-class family paper. The Independent is neutral in politics; but we notice that the Editor devotes considerable space, in each number, to articles not very complimentary to Hon. Gilfillan, M. C., from that district.

We wish Mr. Young abundant success, in every way, and regret, exceedingly, that he located in East Brady, in preference to Bellefonte. We would like to shake your hand, Mr. Young.

LONG ROOM.—The store-room of Hoffer & Brother is now 110 feet long. It is a magnificent room, with bed-room, business-room, and all the other necessary conveniences to make it the best, as well as the largest store-room in the town, if not in the State, out side the cities.

It is the intention of this old and reliable firm to stock this immense room with goods, entirely new, and an assortment of every thing used by housekeepers. It is their determination to leave nothing undone to accommodate their old friends and customers, while they extend a cordial invitation to the general public to call in and examine their large and superior stock of goods before purchasing elsewhere.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER.—We have received the prospectus of a monthly journal to be published at St. Louis, December 1st, by J. W. McIntyre, No. 4 South Fifth Street, under supervision of a committee, representing the Evangelical denominations. Its sphere is the promotion of the religious education of the young in the Family, Sanctuary, Sabbath and Day School, Asylums, &c., in all sections and denominations alike.

It will have a lesson system with expository notes, illustrations, &c., with much other matter ready prepared for the use of teachers, parents, and others.

The Editorial Committee consists of leading ministers of different denominations. The publisher would, no doubt, gladly answer all inquiries.

EVERYBODY, wise and foolish, says an exchange, predicts that we are to have a severe winter. They don't base their belief on the fact that the weather indicates it, which would be a very sensible reason, but they point us to the philosophic and scientific movements of ground hogs, muskrats and wild geese. Wild geese are traveling south very fast; we would if we were a wild goose; there is food for them, and a warmer climate to breed in; the rats are a little in advance of last year in building their houses, and the ground hogs don't come out to sniff the cold breeze quite so early in the morning. Now all these things indicate something. What is it? Have they formed a "ring" to run up the price of coal; to create a demand for furs, or to advance the price of featherbeds? Whatever it is, whether it is the one or the other, we really wish the ground hogs, the wild geese, the rats, or whatever other animal or feathered biped has a hand in getting up such weather, would just subside, for a season, at least.

PHILIPSBURG PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—We are pleased to learn that the people of Philipsburg manifest a great deal of earnestness and determination in relation to the Public Schools of that place. Their magnificent new school building is the best evidence of this earnestness, and of the enterprise of the citizens. We learn from Prof. Magee that the school consists of four grades, and that it should be increased to five or six.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

is taught by C. B. Sanford, formerly County Superintendent of Clearfield county. In the opinion of Prof Magee, this school is too large, having to admit many scholars who should be in the other grades. The number of pupils in this school is 45. Reading, Writing, Rhetoric, English Grammar, Geography and Map Drawing, Natural Philosophy, Algebra, History of the United States, Written and Mental Arithmetic are taught. To these are now added instruction in Vocal Music and Physiology. This school is in excellent condition.—Pupils, perfect ladies and gentlemen.—Proff. Sanford is justly proud of his pupils.

Heretofore all the schools were independent of each other; but now, as suggested by Prof Magee, Mr. Sanford has a general superintendency over all the schools, visiting them daily, and giving such instructions as may be necessary.

THE SECOND GRADE

is taught by F. W. A. Shultz, a teacher of thirteen years experience. He understands his business fully, and as a teacher, has few, if any equals. In this school is taught Spelling, reading, writing, Primary Grammar and Geography. Singing is practiced daily. Oral instructions given in Physiology and U. S. History. In this school the walls are literally covered, or, rather, decorated with maps, charts, mottoes, pictures, &c., all aiding in making the school room pleasant. Mr. Shultz has 99 pupils—enough for two schools.

THE THIRD GRADE

is taught by Miss Mollie E. McCoy. In this grade, Spelling, Reading Writing, Primary Arithmetic and Geography are taught. Here are to be seen some beautiful specimens of maps drawn by the scholars. Singing practiced daily.—Number of pupils, 52.

THE FOURTH GRADE,

or primary school, is taught by Miss Jennie Shontz. She has 74 scholars.—Entirely too many, in our opinion, for any teacher. The Alphabet, Spelling and Reading are taught in this school. Considering the size and age of the pupils, the order is remarkably good.

The school board is composed of intelligent men—are very efficient—taking a deep interest in the schools. They have determined to decorate and furnish the school rooms in the best manner. New window curtains have been ordered for all the windows, and the board have determined upon making all necessary repairs. Such interest, manifested by directors and parents, speaks volumes in favor of the morals and intelligence of the citizens of Philipsburg.

MILESBURG, Nov. 22, 1869.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Your last issue contains an article, written by one "Rambler," of Central City, who undertakes to apprise the public of a certain riot in Milesburg. We are sorry to recur to a matter of so little importance to the public; but as it is now not unusual to find slurs cast upon our town, through the public press a word here may not be amiss.

Far be it from my purpose to encourage riot or mobocracy in any particular. I am opposed to any measure which would endanger domestic security, or corrupt the morals of the people. But there are times when forbearance ceases to be a virtue. The subject of the impetuosity of the people of Milesburg was too obnoxious to our town to be tolerated. It might have been patronized, and even propogated in Bellefonte, without finding its way into public print, being rather accepted as a matter of course; but, with all due respect to our neighbors, we must say it will not pass here.

We are free to confess that we have bad boys, and bad men, all of whom deserve punishment. But we have also a very fair proportion of the intelligence and respectability of the county, and when we fail in these commodities, we shall not draw our supplies from the county seat. Behind those rugged hills, and within those cellar walls, there is more drunkenness, debauchery and riot, in a single night, than Milesburg ever knew.

Mr. "Rambler" evidently thinks that those men who demolished a house of inequity should be arrested. It is not the first time he has condemned his own comrades, if reports be true, or sought to keep them within the prison walls.—The philanthropy he manifests over the fall of "Fort Mackey," the patrons of which have made night hideous with perfidious howls and outraged the community by their nightly visitations to our hen-coops and turnip patches, is of very modern birth. By virtue of our advantages in point of location, as well as the inducements afforded for capital, we hope to be able soon to dispense with such encumbrances, and compete fairly with our neighbors in progress and enterprise. Bellefonte may yet knock at our doors and find us "not at leisure."

"Fort Mackey" is demolished. The accursed inmates were driven, by leglightning, out of the garden of Milesburg, to take refuge among their friends in Bellefonte. It was there they had found protection from the repeated efforts of our people to free themselves of the pestilence by legal process, and it was there they found shelter when, as a dernier resort, we adopted the shortest, quickest and best route. ECHO.

WORTH FAR MORE THAN IT COSTS.—A recent case occurred where a farmer, to save expense, omitted to take his local paper for a year. He went to market on Monday with a load of 33 bushels of wheat, and sold it to the first one who offered him 1c. more per bushel than he got the week before. With part of the money he bought a piece of 42 yards of muslin at 17 cents per yard. At night he met a neighbor who had sold his wheat of the same quality at 10 cents a bushel higher, and bought the same kind of muslin for 15 cents. His local paper of Wednesday had told him of an advance of 10 cents on wheat, and who paid it, and he stuck for that price and got it. The same paper contained an advertisement of a dealer who sold the cotton goods at 15 cents, and he bought them there. He made, or saved, $3 81 on that day's trip, from the information gained from one number of his paper, while for a whole year it cost him only $2. The single number, costing 4 cents, was worth to him $1 81 above a year's subscription. And so it will often be all through the year—not to mention the fact that his children are growing up intelligent they learn to read in reading the paper, and thus save time and expense at school; and they know what is going on in the world, have something to think of while at work, and their heads are not so much the devil's work shop, for he finds some mischief still for idle hands" and brains.

——There is another story about the above two farmers. The one who got the largest price for his wheat, had also more bushels per acre to sell, with the same cost of culture. A couple of hints he got from the American Agriculturist, which described the mode of culture, and kind of seed used by another farmer, were adopted by him, and the result was 4 bushels per acre more on 35 acres—or 140 bushels of wheat, clear gain. Such results are very common, and it could hardly be otherwise. A large force of practical men are all through the year gathering information for the paper, and the result of all this is furnished to subscribers for $1 50, or less to clubs.—Many cases are known where the occupants of Village plots have increased the yield of the little garden many dollars worth during a year, by following the hints and suggestions of the Agriculturist. And, aside from this, may be named its $12,000 worth of beautiful engravings, and its Household and Children's Department—all valuable—and its constant showing up of humbugs, which have saved to the country millions of dollars that would otherwise have gone into the hands of swindlers. Reader, such papers are each worth far more than the cost to every one, and we can say unbesitatingly, first secure a good local paper (our own, if you can find no better,) and next supply yourselves with the American Agriculturist, published by Orange Judd & Co., 245 Broadway, New York, at $1 50 a year, or four copies for $5. A new volume, the 29th Annual one, is just beginning, and now is just the time to send for it. It will pay far more than its cost. You want it; your wife wants it; your children want it.

WEDNESDAY MORNING Dec. 1 '69.

Fruit Trees For Shade.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman says truly: "Shade trees in the door yard and by the road side add much to the beauty and ther by to the value of the farm. Public attention has been attracted to this subject and within a few years past very many trees have been set by the sides of our roads. It has cost but little to do it, and the increased beauty of the farms has more than paid the expense. And this principle will hold true universally. Shade trees will more than pay their cost.

"The general tendency has been to set trees which would furnish shade and be ornamental, without reference to anything farther. But here is a good opportunity to combine beauty and utility. The shade and ornamental trees which are usually transplanted are injurious to the soil and make no return, except their shade and ornament. Now, if instead of setting maples and elms, we would set some of the best varieties of fruit trees, we would have shade and also a good supply of fruit. This plan, I think, is practised to some extent in Germany, and would, no doubt, be successful here. Our public commons if set over, to some extent, with fruit trees, would yield an abundant supply of fruit for the poor, who have no trees and no land on which to set them. A common planted with the choice varieties of cherries, plums, peaches, pears and apples, would look full as tempting, especially in fruiting time, as one covered with maples and evergreens. But my particular object in this article is to recommend farmers when setting trees on their land near the road, to set those which will yield an income rather than those which are merely ornamental and which are a constant injury to the land. Practical illustrations of the benefits of such a course are often seen. We have in mind two farmers whose land borders on the road. One of them has a nice row of maples, which furnish nothing but shade and seriously injure his land. The other has a splendid row of apple trees. They furnish shade—are ornamental and do not injure the land near as much as maples. They also furnish a large supply of valuable fruit."

Cover Your Vines and Plants.

The advice cannot be too often given to all who cultivate vines and plants as to their protection through the winter and early spring. We have found after a good many years of experience that there is no mode so sure of guarding all vines and plants not entirely hardy against our occasionally severe winters, as laying them down and covering them with soil. Of course we mean those which can be so treated. The covering should not be more than two to four inches, according to the nature of the thing laid down. If too much earth is used the buds from the heat of the ground in March, may burst too early, and may be damaged by a late frost when taken up, which should rarely be done before the first of April. All young Grape vines should be laid down, though it will prove of great benefit, in our judgment, to all grape vines, young and old, hardy or otherwise, to prune them and lay them down and cover with few inches of soil. All Raspberry canes should be pruned and laid down; so should Roses that are liable to damage from the frost. Strawing up roses and other deciduous flowers and shrubbery, as it is usually done—that is binding them as tightly almost as a pole—is far more injurious to them than no protection at all. Where strawing up is resorted to, it should be applied only on the side exposed to the sun.

All flower-borders should have a good covering of stable-manure-horse manure being very good for this purpose. In the spring the long stuff should be raked off, and the rest forked in. It will not only protect the roots against all injury during the winter, but the plants will appear in the spring greatly invigorated, and the flowers will be much more abundant and prove of much higher colors and greater beauty. Even leaves, straw, debris of any kind; or, if there be nothing else, a slight covering of soil will be of good service.

We trust that no one who values the things about the premises here referred to, will neglect this brief advice—and November is the time to attend to it.—Germantown Telegraph.

BLIND STAGGERS.—The first step to be taken in this disease is to relieve the over heated organs of the brain. The jugular vein should be immediately opened. No definite quantity of blood need be taken, but let it run until he falls. Three days afterwards give the horse a physic, bearing in mind that double the quantity is required that would suffice for a horse in a healthy condition. The after treatment must be regulated by circumstances. For some time the horse should have mashes and green food in moderate quantities, a small amount of hay, and but very little grain.—American Stock Journal.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—To every three bushels of buckwheat add one of good heavy oats; grind them together as though there was only buckwheat; thus you will have cakes always light and always brown, to say nothing of the greater digestibility and the lightening of spirits, which are equally certain.

Fruit For Desert.

After the refined and complicated luxury of a recherche dinner, we seem to go back, when the fruit comes on the table, to the primitive simplicity of the earliest stages. We consume our entrements and our fricasees, our ragouts and our made dishes; and then our host, as if the repertoire of delicacies had been exhausted, steps out into his garden and his orchard, and brings in a simple dish of fruit; a bunch of golden grapes, some apples painted red and yellow by the soft pencil of the summer sunbeam, a dusty velvet peach, or some honey fleshed apricots. He is doing what King Alcinous may have done to Ulysses and the storm beaten Greeks! it is patriarchal, it smacks of the golden age and the old mythological times; yet it is a custom that does not wither, and will never grow unfashionable. How things alter! The salad, once all that the hermit had to live upon, has become a relish for the gourmand; cheese, once the shepherd's only food, is now an entrement after many courses; fruit, once the only food of the early denizens of the world, is now the mere crowning pleasure of the dinner.

Fruit requires no cooking; the great stationary fire has cooked it to a turn. It has been basted with dew; the soft balmy sun has been its sauce. Its flavor has been mixed by the ministering spirits of garden and orchard; it color and shape are of a lasting fashion; it contains essences never discovered, and wines as yet undreamed of it is older than the cutlet, and anterior to the fricandeau! its seed blew to us from Eden, or fell to us from the amaranthine gardens. Turtle soup is sublime, and there are ragouts which exercise a moral, and psychological influence over the world; but are earthly. Their component parts are known; there is not the mystery about them that appertains to fruit.

Really to enjoy fruit, one should pick one's own and eat it in appropriate scenery under the tree from which it is gathered, or beside the bush whereon it has grown. The pear reached down from the pliant bough, where it has long swung like a golden weight for Mammon's scales, tastes as much better than the same fruit coldly cut by a silver knife at a formal desert, as a damson does than its humble, rustic cousin, the sloe; the strawberry has its finest fragrance only when discovered under its own triple leaves. When is the raspberry so delicious as when plucked from the straggling canes? The apple should be twisted from its fostering twig; the grape bunch, nipped from the ragged brown branch bound to the green house roof.—All Year Round.

Precocious and Affectionate Chickens.

Editors Country Gentleman—I noticed a piece in your journal of the 7th October, taken from the Canada Farmer, where the writer thought it was a novel sight to see young chickens follow their mother to the nest when she went to lay. I had a hen that brought off a brood of chickens about the 1st of April; in three or four weeks she commenced laying again, and the whole brood would follow her to the nest every day and stay with her until she laid. Before she went to setting the second time, the chickens were all killed except a cock and pullet. She was put on Guinea eggs, and the two chickens staid with her all the time she was setting, only coming off when she would to get something to eat. One morning I put them both in the yard while the other chickens were being fed, but they went back to the nest, without stopping to eat.

When the Guineas were hatched the hen was tied to a tree, where she had the play of about 8 feet of string.

She fed the chickens and Guineas both.—The Guineas would follow the young chickens about the yard; they seemed to take care of them and scratch for them. In less than a week the pullet seemed to take more care of them than her mother; she would cluck to them and feed them. It looked strange to see her going about clucking and a dozen young Guineas running after her. The young cock would scratch for them, but he made a kind of clipping noise when he wanted to feed them. We had to bring the Guineas into the house at night to keep the rats from them. As soon as the young chickens would come off the roost, mornings, they both would stay about the door and keep clucking and chipping until they were turned out. When they were three weeks old they would hardly notice their mother; when they were five weeks old the three chickens were stolen one night with 15 others. I have a few of the Guineas left that I succeeded in raising.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

A VALUABLE SECRET.—A laundress gives us the following receipt for doing up shirt bosoms. Any lady who desires to make home happy, will do well to try the experiment. It will be found a sovereign antidote to that serious stuff which weighs upon the heart—an ill ironed and ill fitted shirt bosom: Take 2 ounces of fine gum arabic powder; put into a pitcher, and pour on a pint or more of water, and then having covered it let it stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, and cork and keep it for use. A table spoonful of gum water stirred in a pint of starch, made in the usual manner, will give to lawn, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore them after they have been washed.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and bisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere, if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

SCROLL WORK,
and manufactured lumber of

EVERY DESCRIPTION

at the

LOWEST CASH PRICES

All manner of work such as Scroll Sawing, Moulding, Brackets, &c., &c made after any desired pattern.

ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.

This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.

Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved

COKE DRYING KILNS,

which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable

TO DECAY AND WASTE.

Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not

SHRIVEL AND SHRINK,

thus giving buildings the appearance of having been erected out of Green Material

We know that our facilities give us every advantage over other

SEWING MACHINES.

AMERICAN BUTTON HOLE OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.

MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.

It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.

The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmen-ship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at

SEWING MACHINE

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE

Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.

The machine which they now offer is quiet light running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for

HEMMING, BRAIDING, BINDING,
QUILTING, TUCKING, CORDING, FELLING, GATHERING,

are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." Those who are those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. Machines on hand for sale and exhibition, together with a full and complete assortment of
